

NATIONAL ELECTORS STUDY: REPORT ON VOTER EXPERIENCE

National Electors Study on the 43rd Canadian Federal General Election

Electors were surveyed up to three times:

Before the election

49,993 electors

During the election

23,880 electors

After the election

21,435 electors

The Voter Experience

Voter registration

Voter identification

Voters used different options to prove identity and address when voting:

Getting to the polling place

Nearly all voters said their polling place was:

Voting in 2019 took less time than in 2015:

The voting process was easier than electors expected:

Voting took less time than electors expected:

Nearly all voters were satisfied with:

Overall Satisfaction with Elections Canada and the Election

Most electors trust that the election was run fairly and the results were accurate:

Confidence in Elections Canada and satisfaction with democracy was higher after the election than before it began

